TO LUMBER MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS.
VALUABLE Property at private sale, situated on the Straits opposite Manitowoc, and on the Sheboygan River, containing about 18,000 acres of land, a large portion of which is heavily timbered with best quality of pine. The improvements on this property are, 1st.—the village of DUNCAN; on the main land South Ohanaut or pass, is a large steam Mill, of modern construction, with Siding Machine, Shingle and Lath Machines, and capable of manufacturing fifty thousand feet of lumber in 24 hours; also, Hotel, Land Office, Store, and sundry dwelling-houses and Smith shop. The Sheboygan Steam Mill, on and near the mouth of Sheboygan River. The Sheboygan Water Mill, one mile from the mouth, with dwelling-houses, barns, &c. At Duncan a Pier is erected, extending out to a sufficient depth of water to accommodate any vessel navigating the Lakes. This is admitted by navigators, by reason of the bay and Pier, to be the best Lake Harbor between Detroit and Chicago—it is a desirable Wooding and Coaling Point, being on the direct route for Propellers and sailing vessels. This property is desirable as a point at which a town must soon grow up, as the country back of it is fast filling up, for many miles, with settlers.

The Sheboygan Water Mill has the entire power of Sheboygan River, a never failing stream of great volume, which never freezes; the dam being at the falls of the river, is easily kept in repair. This is the most valuable water privilege in the State of Michigan, north of Grand Rapids.

To a company or individuals, desirous of entering into the lumber trade, this property offers rare inducements, with a certainty of greatly increased value in a very few years, and will be sold much below original cost, or present value, to close a concern.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

RUFUS KING & WM. E. WATSON, PROPRIETORS,

Under the Name and Firm of Rufus King & Co.

MILWAUKEE:

Saturday Morning, Nov. 15.

The North-Eastern Land Grant.

This Grant, as we have already stated, has passed into the hands of the Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac R. R Company. While we might have preferred that it should have been controlled exclusively by citizens of Wisconsin, we are not surprised, nor do we see any reason to complain, that it has fallen into the hands of this Company.

In relation to the North-Western Grant, our position is well-known. As citizens of Wisconsin, interested in whatever tended to develope its resources, we were decidedly in favor of conferring this Grant upon the La Crosse and Milwaukee R. R. Company, not merely because it was controlled by our own citizens, but because it was an existing Company, with credit, capital and energy, enabling it to construct the line of road, contemplated in the Grant, more expeditiously and economically than any new Company which could have been organized by the Legislature. Time will prove the wisdom of the Legislature in making this disposition of the North-Western Land Grant, and if we needed any argument to enforce this point we might refer to the fact of the recent sale of the North-Eastern Land Grant to the Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac Company, because the corporators found themselves unable to prosecute the work with the necessary despatch.

Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha and other towns in the vicinity of Lake Winnebago, which were directly interested in the N. E. Land Grant, and where the majority of the corporators, created by the Legislature, reside, were specially desirous that this road should be completed at an early day; and as these towns had largely contributed towards the construction of the C. St. P. and Fond du Lac R. R., it was natural that they should wish to have the N. E. Land Grant transferred to that Company. This, we presume, was the main ground upon which the transfer was made, and not because the corporators were hostile to Milwaukee. If, as we assume, this Company can construct the road sooner and more cheaply than any new Company, organized by the corporators, Milwaukee has more reason to rejoice at, than to find fault with the arrangement. All that Milwaukee desires is, that every portion of our State should be traversed by rail-roads, and we will trust to her obtaining her full share of the business of Wisconsin.

A reference to the map will show that the N. E. Land Grant road, when built, must become an important feeder to the La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R. and tributary, therefore, to the business, growth and prosperity of this city. The C. St. P. and Fond du Lac road is now operated to a point of intersection with the La Crosse and Milwaukee R. R. This point is 55 miles from Milwaukee and 149 miles from Chicago. Moreover, Milwaukee is 90 miles nearer Buffalo, by Lake than Chicago is, and with these permanent advantages in our favor we have no fear that travel and traffic will go one hundred miles out of their way to Chicago, when they can save time, money and distance by coming direct to Milwaukee. There remains, too, a section of fifty-one miles, from Janesville to the junction, to be completed on the C. St. P. and Fond du Lac road, before it can compete with Milwaukee at all.

What personal considerations decided this disposition of the grant, we neither know, nor care; since it is a matter of little moment, compared with the speedy completion of the road; but we are inclined, on the whole, to think that both our city and State will profit by the arrangement. And for these obvious and substantial reasons. first, that it brings into our State a new and powerful Company, with ample means and influence, to complete, at an early day, the construction of an expensive line of road, wholly within our State and necessarily tributary to our city; and second, that this company, traversing with their line several important roads leading directly to Milwaukee, and being compelled, by the terms of the Grant, to form fair and equal running connections with all other roads desiring to unite with it, we see no good reason to apprehend that any of our Wisconsin Rail Roads, or any portion of our State, will suffer loss or detriment. It has been too much our habit, heretofore, to look to the interests and wishes of Milwaukee alone. The time has now come, and Milwaukee occupies the position, to take broader and more generous views. The fortunes of our State and city are linked closely together; and henceforth no enterprise, looking to the development of the resources and the possession of the interests of any part of Wisconsin, can be projected, or prosecuted, in which Milwaukee has not a vital interest and to which she ought not to say, with all her heart, God SPEED!

OFFICIAL VOTE OF THIS COUNTY.—We publish to-day the official result of the election in this county, on all officers upon whom there was a contest.

In the Oak Creek Assembly district Richard White had 253 votes—those added to the vote of N. Howes make a majority of 4 over Mr. Reymert, who is elected.

In the Granville district, G. Smith, for Assembly, had 98 votes, not given in the table.

Milwaukee and Watertown R. R. Extension.

We learn from the Watertown Chronicle that the piling of Mud Lake, on the line of the Watertown and Columbus Railroad, is at length finished, and the track from the Lake to Columbus, all ready for the rails. The iron will be laid, and the road in running order to Columbus, within the present month. COLUMBUS is the starting point of the North Western Land Grant Road, and is bound to be one of the busiest towns in the interior of our State.

BRIGHT SPOTS IN PENNSYLVANIA.—The returns from Pennsylvania, though black enough in their general aspect, show some gleams of light. The WILMOT Congressional District, now represented by GALUSHA A. GROW, voted as follows, at the State and Presidential Elections:

	—October.— Union maj's.	—November.— Fremont maj's.
Bradford,	3,975	4,700
Tioga,	2,375	3,150
Susquehanna,	1,104	1,800
Total,	7,657	9,150
		7,657
Fremont gain since October,		1,493

MODEST MERIT.—The News takes it amiss that the Fond du Lac Union should call attention to its original discovery that "Tom Moore" was the author of "Home, Sweet Home," and seems annoyed, too, that we should mingle our felicitations with those of the Union upon the remarkable success of its literary labors. Had we known that our neighbour shrank so instinctively from any public mention of this brilliant feat, we would have spared his blushes.

ANOTHER SHIPWRECK AND GREAT LOSS OF LIFE. As was feared, the steamer Superior, is lost on Lake Superior, with her captain and a large portion of the passengers and crew. The Superior was an old boat, unfit to weather a severe storm, and she has gone to pieces, adding another to the already fearful list of disasters to the lake steamers and sail vessels this season.

SEND 'EM ALONG.—St. Lawrence county gives a majority for Fremont of over 3,000, with two towns to hear from. We suggest to our friends in St. Lawrence to send on the remaining figures, as it is concealed here that Fillmore has no chance of carrying the State.—Buff. Republic.

BRUSSELS, July 15, 1856.

[CONCLUDED]

Brussels is one of the most interesting cities in Europe, and probably, next to Paris, would be preferred by nine out of ten travellers. It is in fact a miniature of Paris, for it has its gardens, boulevards, fountains, palaces, and many other places, exactly copied from those of the first named city, while its people adopt its language, customs and manners. The French language is, however, only spoken by the higher classes, while those of the working and lower classes of people speak the Flemish. From several weeks residence in Belgium, I was led to the conclusion that there is no nation in Europe who have a better King, better laws better administered, and a more enterprising and industrious people, than those same Belgians. The country is small, it is true, but all its resources are developed. No one appears to be idle, and all seem to have good homes, and to be well fed and well clad.

The city of Brussels is the capital of this country, and contains a population of 150,000.—While it is not invested with ancient churches and historic recollections, that interest the student and the antiquarian, as in Antwerp, it has recollections that cannot fail to win the heart, to say nothing of the purse of all travellers It commences on the small river Senne, and stretches off Easterly until it reaches the hill, thus forming the old town, in the centre of which rises majestically the Hotel de Ville, (the ancient palace of justice,) unrivalled, as a building for its Gothic architecture.

In this building, A. D. 1555, Charles the Fifth abdicated his crown and kingdom.

Around this are all the business streets, amongst which, too, are many of the old residences of Brabant noblemen of former times.—These buildings have a picturesque look, and are many of them built after the early German style of architecture, such as I described as standing now in Normandy. They have mostly changed hands, and are now occupied by the merchants and business men. The new part of the city stretches up and over the hill,, on farther East to the level ground. Here are the parks, palaces, gardens, theatres and museums. This is not only a very healthy quarter, but the view of the distant country, and the lower part of the city, is magnificent.

In the centre of one of the square in this part of the city stands the equestrian statue of Godfrey of Bouillon, who was a native citizen of a small town not far from Brussels, at the time of the Crusades. The Christian hero is represented upon his noble horse, which is in the act of rearing in obedience to the will of his master, with one hand holding his bridle rein, and the holy banner of his Lord and Saviour, on which is inscribed the cross; and in the other hand he is in the act of waving his sword to his soldiers to follow him.

This is no doubt intended to represent his attack upon Jerusalem. He is clad in a complete suit of mail, as well as the most vulnerable portions of his horse, according to the custom of the times. In the stern and commanding features of the pilgrim warrior, there is seen a countenance which, when studied, shows that he was not fighting for the bubble fame, and to win a name upon earth, but rather in the holy cause of a religious vow which he had solemnly made, to wrest the place of the nativity, death and resurrection of our Saviour, from the hands of the Moslem. No piece of statuary or sculpture ever made impressions so solemn and imposing upon my feelings, as this. I had read and admired the heroism of the crusader—followed his track across the plains of Palestine—saw the spot where he attacked the city of Jerusalem, and finally, his tomb in the Holy Sepulchre where once had lain the crucified body of his Master, whom he had so long and so faithfully served; and when I came to see him, as it were, at his own home, almost reanimated, clothed in the same armour, and remounted, I almost fancied I saw him, as in real life, leading on the Christian army to battle and to victory. Again and again I visited this wonderful as well as truthful work of art. And there it stands, in sunshine and in storm, in day time and in darkness, telling to the visitor its own history—a great and solemn history—from which the young and the old, the high born and the low, may learn a lesson, to enlist in a good cause, and however great and insurmountable the obstacles may appear, a determined perseverance will conquer.

The palaces, institutions of learning, museums and churches of Brussels, are all of a high order, and well repay the visitor. The palace of industry and art is something like the United States patent office in Washington. While admiring many agricultural inventions I saw in that branch of it, my attention was attracted by seeing at a long distance off, in the further end of the gallery from where I was standing, a neat flag of the United States. Why our national banner should be "thrown to the breeze," as the politician would say, in such a place as this, I could not for a moment imagine. In my anxiety to see it, however, and to satisfy my curiosity how it should have worked its way into this most unseeming place, I left the spot and hastened up the aisle, to where it was. The mystery was explained. It hung over one of Mr. McCormick's reaping machines, which had taken the premium at the National Agricultural Exhibition in the country. A medal had also been awarded to the American inventor at the exhibitions of London and Paris, and probably by other Continental countries. This machine was of full size, and very tastefully made and painted.

I occasionally meet an English snob in my travels, who is generally so short sighted and ignorant as to believe that there is nothing created, either by invention or otherwise, outside of his own country. I have only to point upward to the telegraph wires, and allude to some of the mechanical and scientific discoveries of our countrymen, to silence him. When a Johnny gets forecious at this, and begins to talk of gunpowder, war, steamships, etc, I allude to the late contest with Russia, and the sorry part the British arms had to do with that affair compared with the French, and this generally acts as a settler.—From this point he turns to Trafalgar and Waterloo, and is soon glad to change the subject entirely.

A stroll in the botanic gardens cannot fail to please the traveller. In addition to beautiful shady walks, delightful promenades amidst flowers and fruits of almost every clime, fountains that cool the summer heat and invite him to sit long upon seats that surround the marble basins, he will find that science and art have here contributed with nature, to produce some of the most wonderful creatures I allude to the artificial growth of several species of fish, marine plants, coral, and other substances embodying animal life. These are all arranged in glass cases, and all the operations may be seen with the naked eye. The coral is particularly interesting from its beautiful colors and varieties. In these may be seen the opening and shutting of thousands of little valves which answer the same as mouths, the gentle heaving and swelling of a whole mass, like the human lungs in the act of respiration, and many other phenomena peculiar to these sea productions. This portion of the gardens, containing a number of acres, is covered by a building something in the form of the crystal palace, and warmed by metalic conductors of hot water, which is heated at the fountain-head at least one half a mile off. In this department there are palm trees and other tropical fruits at least sixty feet high.

I also visited, and was much amused and instructed, in the museum of ancient antiquities. Those at Paris, Berlin and Stockholm are very interesting, and some perhaps larger, but the specimens and arrangement of this pleased me full as much. There are among other things a complete specimen of ancient armor and weapons used from the earliest times to the time of adopting those of fire-arms. Also a like series of fire arms, from the most primitive invention to the present day, with all the varieties of each age. All these are original, which makes the exhibition the more interesting. The large halls crowded with mailed warriors, mounted and on foot, add to the gloom and solemnity of the place. As one progresses through these shadowy forms, reading their names upon their breasts—names familiar in accounts of battles and sieges that have drenched the world in blood, strange feelings of awe and pain cannot but pass through his mind. Among many strange and curious relics, I saw here the cradle of Charles the V. which no doubt is genuine.

No one ever comes to Brussels, without visiting the battle-field of Waterloo. There is a fine four horse coach expressly for this purpose, which leaves the principal hotels twice each day at 8 o'clock and 11 o'clock in the forenoon, expressly for the purpose of carrying visitors. So early one bright and beautiful morning, at the sound of the bugle, I hurried down and took a seat on the outside. The field where the memorable battle took place, lies some twelve miles to the south, and two miles beyond the little village of St. Jean where Wellington had his head quarters. During the whole distance the scenery is very picturesque and beautiful, consisting of forests of full grown trees, large fields of waving grain, which is just now ripening for the harvest, distant hills chequered with villages and groves of timbers, herds of sheep and cattle and men, women and children with cheerful songs and voices to lighten labor on all sides. As the road, like all the highways of Belgium, was well paved, we rolled along at a rapid rate.

One of the most interesting objects which I saw on the way was the forest of Soignies, called I believe anciently Ardennes. It is entirely of beech trees of lofty height and full grown bodies, forming a complete shade and darkening even the light of day, so thickly do they stand. There are no obstructions, no fences, no hills other than gentle slopes, presenting the appearance of one of the most beautiful parks in the world. Early on the morning of the battle the British troops passed through this forest of nine miles in extent The following allusion to it by the poet, in connection with this memorable action is happily made.

"Ardennes waves above them her green leaves,
Dewy with nature's tear-drops, as they pass,
Grieving, if aught inanimate e'er grieves,
Over the unreturning brave,—alas!
Ere evening to be trodden like the grass
Which now beneath them, but above shall grow
In its next verdure, when the fiery mass
Of living valor, rolling on the foe
And burning with high hope, shall moulder cold and low."

But space compels me to reserve for my next a description of Waterloo, which I intended to have inserted in this letter.

More Bodies from the Toledo.

POST WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Since writing you before, several more dead bodies have been recovered that were lost on the wreck of the Propeller "Toledo," and buried at this place, of whom the following is as correct and as full a description as I was able to take of them.

A man, some 25 to 30 years old, about 5ft, 8 inches high, black hair and dark whiskers a little sandy on the chin; had on sheeps grey woven shirt, white knit drawers, white knit under-shirt and blue woolen do; had in his pocket a small port-monnaie, containing a $1 bill, and 20 cents in change; also a receipt to James Metcalf for $10, paid for 20 days board, dated Buffalo, June 9, 1856.

A young man, about 15 to 18 years old, 5 feet 4 inches high, dark hair, cut short; wore a black woolen sack coat, light drab colored cotton corduroy pants, tweed vest, with blue glass buttons, two white cotton shirts, white woolen socks and calf thick boots; had a small checkered calico bag, or purse, containing a $2 bill and $1,25 cents in change.

A little girl, 8 to 10 years old, light hair and light complexion, had on a quilted calico skirt, white cotton hose and light brown colored gaiters.

A young man, from 12 to 15 years old, about 5ft high, brown hair, wore 2 pair cotton pants and white linen vest, and grey mixed woolen socks. The initials "I. K." printed in india ink, on right arm.

A man, about 25 years old, 5ft. 9 inches high, wore a blue and white check tweed coat, white grey satinett pants, blue woolen socks and kip boots.

A woman, 25 to 30 years old, about 5 feet 2 inches high, dark brown hair; had on blue figured poplin dress, with chemise trimmed with edging; no skirts, shoes nor stockings; had on left hand a plaited gold ring, and was enciente.

A girl, 10 to 12 years old, in a state of nudity, and face much disfigured; had dark red hair and wore a small, plain finger ring on left hand.

A man, about 25 years old, 5 ft. 8 inches high, dark hair and whiskers a little sandy, in a state of nudity; had on left hand a gold ring, marked with the initials "E. M." on the inside.

I learned to-day that 8 more bodies have been found near Amsterdam, 15 miles north of here, (supposed to have been lost from the Toledo) and interred there. I have no description of them. Yours, in haste,

M. M. WHEDON.

OPPOSED TO THE ENTERPRIZE.—The News of yesterday devotes an objurgatory paragraph, or two, to "Pump Carpenter," of the Madison Patriot, for presuming to announce that a new and reliable democratic paper was to be published in this city shortly. "Pump" is soundly rated for his short comings and thus paid off for his effective labors on the stump in behalf of Buchanan.

But Pump's voice is treacherous; it failed him in Waukesha county, where he was doing a great work. He made the feathers fly there to some purpose. We are principally indebted to him for that change in public sentiment, by which Buchanan was beaten 500 more in Waukesha county, than he would have been had Pump's voice failed him a week earlier. However, we ought to be thankful that it failed as early as it did.

We infer from the general tone of the News' remarks that the project of establishing "a new and reliable Democratic paper" in this city, is not a popular one in that establishment. Pity!

Watertown & Madison Railroad.

The stockholders of the Watertown and Madison Railroad Company, met in this city last Wednesday, the 12th inst. To-day they are again in session, and a new Board of Directors have been chosen, composed of the following gentlemen: J. C. Fairchild, President; L. J. Farwell, H. K. Lawrence, B. F. Hopkins, N. W. Dean, Andrew Proudfit, Wm. A. Barstow, A. M. Hanchett, Patrick Rogan, Wm. M. Dennis, William Chappell, Daniel Jones, A. L. Pritchard.

There are now over seven hundred men employed by Messrs. Howard, the contractors, on the road between this city and Hanchettville.—The greater part of the grading has been done. There is to be no delay in the completion of the remaining work. Every effort will be made to put the track in running order at the earliest possible moment.—Watertown Dem.

Pennsylvania.—Returns from all the counties in the State are in, and the vote stands as follows: Buchanan 230,500; Fusion Fremont 147,447; Fusion Fillmore 55,831; Straight Fillmore 8,888; Straight Fremont 101; Gerrit Smith 18.—Buchanan majority over fusion, 27,162—and over all, 705.

BRIGHAM YOUNG ON WHINING WOMEN.

Management of Disappointed Wives.

EMANCIPATION OF THE HAREM.

From a Sermon Preached by Brigham Young, Sept 21, 1856.

* * * It is frequently happening that women say that they are unhappy. Men will say, "My wife, though a most excellent woman, has not seen a happy day since I took my second wife;" "No, not a happy day for a year," says one; and another has not seen a happy day for five years. It is said that women are tied down and abused; that they are misused and have not the liberty they ought to have, that many of them are wading through a perfect flood of tears, because of the conduct of some men, together with their own folly.

I wish my own women to understand that what I am going to say is for them as well as others, and I want those who are here to tell their sisters, yes, all the women of this community, and then write it back to the States, and do as you please with it. I am going to give you from this time to the 6th day of Oct. next for reflection, that you may determine whether you wish to stay with your husbands or not, and then I am going to set every woman at liberty, and say to them, "Now, go your way my women with the rest;" go your way. And my wives have got to do one of two things; either round up their shoulders to endure the afflictions of this world and live for their religion, or they may leave, for I will not have them about me. I will go into heaven alone rather than have scratching and fighting around me. I will set all at liberty. "What, first wife, too?" Yes, I will liberate you all.

I know what my women will say; they will say, "You can have as many women as you please, Brigham." But I want to go somewhere and do something to get rid of the whiners; I do not want them to receive a part of the truth and spurn the rest out of doors.

I wish my women, and brother Kimball's, and brother Grant's to leave, and every woman in this Territory, or else say in their hearts that they will embrace the Gospel—the whole of it. Tell the Gentiles that I will free every woman in this Territory at our next conference. "What, the first wife, too?" Yes there shall not be one held in bondage; all shall be set free. And then let the father be the head of the family, the master of his own household; and let him treat them as an angel would treat them; and let the wives and children say amen to what he says, and be subject to his dictates, instead of their dictating the man—instead of their trying to govern him.

No doubt some are thinking, "I wish Brother Brigham would say, what would become of the children." I will tell you what my feelings are; I will let my wives take the children, and I have property enough to support them, and can educate them and then give them a good fortune, and I can take a fresh start.

I do not desire to keep a particle of my property, except enough to protect me from a state of nudity. And I would say, Wives, you are welcome to my children, only do not teach them iniquity; for if you do I will send an elder, or come myself, to teach them the gospel. You teach them life and salvation, or I will send elders to instruct them.

Let every man thus treat his wives, keeping raiment enough to clothe his body; and say to your wives, "take all that I have and be set at liberty; but if you stay with me you shall comply with the law of God, and that, too, without any murmuring and whining. You must fulfil the law of God in every respect, and round up your shoulders to walk up to the mark without any grunting."

Now recollect, that two weeks from to-morrow I am going to set you at liberty. But the first wife will say, "It is hard, for I have lived well with my husband twenty years, or thirty, and have raised a family of children for him, and it is a great trial to me for him to have more women;" then I say it is time that you gave him up to other women who will bear children. If my wife had borne me all the children that she ever would bear, the celestial law would teach me to take young women that would have children.

Do you understand this? I have told you many times that there are multitudes of pure and holy spirits waiting to take tabernacles. Now what is our duty? To prepare tabernacles for them; to take a course that will not tend to drive those spirits into the families of the wicked, where they will be trained in wickedness debauchery and every species of crime. It is the duty of every righteous man and every woman to prepare tabernacles for all the spirits they can. Hence, if my women leave, I will go and search up others who will abide the celestial law, and let all I now have go where they please, though I will send the Gospel to them.

This is the reason why the doctrine of plurality of wives was revealed, that the noble spirits which are waiting for tabernacles might be brought forth.

If the men of the world were right, or if they were anywhere near right, there might not be the necessity which there now is. But they are wholly given up to idolatry, and to all manner of wickedness.

Do I think that my children will be damned? No, I do not, for I am going to fight the devil until I save them all; I have got my sword ready, and it is a two-edged one. I have not a fear about that, for I would almost be ashamed of my body if it would beget a child that would not abide the law of God, though I may have some unruly children.

I am going to ask you a good many things, and to begin with I will ask what is your prayer? Do you not ask for the righteous to increase, while the unrighteous shall decrease and dwindle away? Yes that is the prayer of every person that prays at all. The Methodists pray for it, the Baptists pray for it, and the Church of England and all the reformers, the Shaking Quakers not excepted. And if the women belonging to this church will turn Shaking Quakers, I think their sorrows will soon be at an end.

Sisters, I am not joking; I do not throw out my proposition to banter your feelings, to see whether you will leave your husbands, all or any of you. But I do know that there is no cessation to the everlasting whinings of many of the women in this Territory; I am satisfied that this is the case. And if the women will turn from the commandments of God and continue to despise the order of Heaven, I will pray that the curse of the Almighty may be close to their heels, and that it may be following them all day long. And those that enter into it and are faithful, I will promise them that they shall be queens in Heaven, and rulers to all eternity.

"But," says one, "I want to have my paradise now." And says another, "I did think I should be in paradise if I was sealed to Br. Brigham, and I thought I should be happy when I became his wife, or Br. Heber's. I loved you so much that I thought I was going to have a heaven right off, right here on the spot."

What a curious doctrine it is, that we are preparing to enjoy! The only heaven for you is that which you make yourselves. My heaven is here [laying his hand upon his heart]. I carry it with me When do I expect it in its perfection? When I come up in the resurrection, then I shall have it and not till then.

But the women come and say, "really Br. John, and Br. William, I thought you were going to make a heaven for me," and they get into trouble because a heaven is not made for them by the men, even though agency is upon women as well as upon men True there is a curse upon the women that is not upon the men, namely, that "her whole affections shall be toward her husband," and what is the next? "He shall rule over you."

But how is it now? Your desire is to your husband, but you strive to rule over him, whereas the man should rule over you

Some may ask whether that is the case with me; go to my house and live, and then you will learn that I am very kind, but know how to rule.

If I had only wise men to talk to, there would be no necessity for my saying what I am going to say. Many and many an elder knows no better than to go home and abuse as good woman as dwells upon this earth, because of what I have said this afternoon. Are you, who act in that way, fit to have a family? No, you are not, and never will be, until you get good common sense.

There you can go to work and magnify your callings, and you can do the best you know how; and on that ground I will promise you salvation, but upon no other principle.

If I were talking to a people that understood themselves and the doctrines of the holy Gospel, there would be no necessity for saying this, because you would understand. But many have been (what shall I say? pardon me, brethren,) hen-pecked so much that they do not know the place of either man or woman; they abuse and rule a good woman with an iron hand. With them it is as Solomon said: "Bray a fool in a mortar among wheat with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him. You may talk to them about their duties, about what is required of them, and still they are fools and will continue to be.

Prepare yourselves for two weeks from to-morrow; and I will tell you now that if you tarry with your husbands after I have set you free, you must bow down to it and submit yourselves to the celestial law. You may go where you please, after two weeks from to-morrow; but remember that I will not hear any more of this whining.

Result in the State.

Fremont's majority over Buchanan now reaches 77,481—over Fillmore 127,072. The aggregate vote will reach 550,000. Fremont's majority over the Slave Democracy is so large, that the Republicans propose to put it out at 7 per cent, and use only the interest of it in future contests.—Buff. Republic.

WASHINGTON COUNTY OFFICIAL.—The full vote in Washington county at the late election stood, Fremont 813, Buchanan 2,646—Buchanan's majority 1,833.

On Congress the vote stood, Billinghurst 815, Hobart 2,652—Hobart's majority 1837.

The Republicans have done well in the old Yankee Counties.

IOWA COUNTY.—The Mineral Point Tribune brings us the full returns from Iowa. The result is even better than our first reports made it—The county gives 26 majority for Fremont, and the Republicans elect their Sheriff, Treasurer, Clerk, Attorney, Coroner and one Member of Assembly. This is doing first-rate for a county which gave Barstow 824 majority last fall. The Tribune seems to think that this favorable result is partly due to the Buchanan stump speeches of our quondam Whig and Free Soil friend, H. S. Orton, in that section of the State. Assuredly the Buchanan Electioneerers helped us materially, there as elsewhere.

FIRE.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock, yesterday morning, a fire broke out in a carpenter shop on the open lot, corner of Wisconsin and Milwaukee streets. The flames speedily communicated to several piles of lumber and to the two story brick building on Wisconsin street, formerly occupied as an office, by Drs. WOLCOTT & DOUGLASS. Several of the engines were on the ground in good season, but a long time elapsed before any water could be got, the nearest source of supply being the river, three or four blocks off. Fortunately the night was calm and, as soon as water was procured the fire was speedily extinguished. The loss is not far from $1,000—we did not hear of any insurance.

SHINING.—One of the comic features of business is borrowing money to meet notes or other imperative obligations—technically called "shinning." The person who is compelled to resort to this unpleasant alternative is to be pitied. So is the person who is afflicted with any disease of the stomach, intestines or liver. Borrowing money will relieve the former temporarily—Herrick's Sugar Coated Pills will relieve the latter permanently. Now is the time to use Herrick's Pills. If so, a healthy, happy winter is before you. Family boxes 25 cents.

GREAT SALE OF LOTS

IN THE CITY OF

PORTAGE,

On the 18th day of December, 1856.

THE principal real estate owners in the city of Portage, have made arrangements for a general sale of Lots in said city, at the time above named. Over one thousand lots will be offered, situated in all parts of the city. A liberal credit will be given for a part of the purchase money, if desired.

It is believed that the great advantages of this point are understood among the business men of the State—The La Crosse Railroad is now running to within 20 miles of here, and will be completed to this city early in January next. The land grant disposed of by the last legislature secures the completion of a railroad from Madison, and another from Columbus to this city, within two years, and from thence to the North-western line of the State to Lake St. Croix and Lake Superior. Double as the able and energetic company who have this work in charge, will push it forward to completion with all possible despatch. The long delayed Fox and Wisconsin River Improvement is now certain of being completed immediately, making a perfect navigation for vessels drawing 8½ feet on Fox River from Lake Michigan to the Wisconsin River, through the canal at this place. The act of the last Legislature takes good search for this. The commercial and agricultural prospects of Portage are unequalled by any town in the interior of the State, and it has no rival. The site is high, healthy and pleasant, and surrounded by beautiful scenery. The city has grown rapidly, with a healthy and substantial growth, and it will soon receive a new and powerful impetus. Real estate is still comparatively low. These never has been any attempt to inflate prices or speculate in lots here.

An opportunity is now offered to obtain property here on the most favorable terms. Let no enterprising man disregard it.

For information, address H. W. TENNEY,
Or C. G. MCCULLOCH,
Portage, Nov. 10, 1856. nov18 d674-d&wtd
